FORMER HOMER
GIRL MARRIES
NEW YORK MAN

A beautiful summer wedding took place at the First Congregational church of Lockport Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, June 27, when Francis Edna Ott, daughter of Mrs. Marie Ott of Lockport, and the late Edward Ott, spoke nuptial vows with Robert Langlois, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Langlois of Schenectady, N. Y., at a candlelight service performed by Dr. John M. Phillips.

Palms and baskets of white Glads, daisies and baby mums adorned the church. Appropriate music was played by James Stevenson as the bride and groom walked down the white carpeted aisle. William Rutter, the bride's brother in law, sang before and during the ceremony, his selections being "At Dawning," "Because," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The lovely young bride was given in marriage by her brother, Edward L. Ott. Her sister, Mrs. William Rutter, was matron of honor, a cousin, Joan Rowley and a college roommate, Doris Hahn of Evanston, were bride's maids, while another cousin, Betty Kasper of Phoenix, Ariz., was the junior bridesmaid.

The groom was served by his friend, Robert McFarland, of Schenectady as best man; the groomsmen were William White of Peoria and Ronald Eversizer of Normal. Ushers were the bride's uncles, Elmer W. Rowley and LaVerne Kasper. Sue and Jean Rowley lighted the candles and Mrs. Elmer Adamson presided over the guest book.

The bride wore a gown of nylon net over satin with a lace bodice and Elizabethan collar. It was fashioned with a full length train and the finger veil was held by a satin cap trimmed with nylon ruffling and pearl motifs. She carried a white net covered Bible on which were arranged a white lily with white stephanotis.

The bride's mother was dressed in a gown of dark blue triple sheer while Mrs. Langlois, the groom's mother, wore navy blue sheer; both chose pink accessories and corsages of pink. Mrs. C. G. Rowley, the bride's maternal grandmother, wore a two piece dress of beige linen and lace.

At the reception held in the church social room immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Elmer Rowley and daughter Carol, served the wedding cake from a lace covered candle light table. Mrs. Langlois poured coffee and Mrs. LaVerne Kasper served the punch. About 200 guests attended.

When the newlyweds left for an eastern honeymoon the new Mrs. Langlois was wearing a powder blue suit with pink and navy accessories. Upon their return the young couple will live at Normal where he will continue his schooling.

The bride formerly lived in Homer at the C. G. Rowley home. She is a graduate of L.T.H.S. and has been attending school at Normal where she met her husband.

MARLEY STAGES
OLD FASHIONED
4TH OF JULY

The annual Fourth of July celebration took place in Marley, just as it has for 71 years past, with a few changes here and there, but much the same as when this traditional event was first launched in 1882. As during all the long years, the Marley 4th of July celebration was an outstanding event, drawing people from far and near. The event, which was reminiscent of the old days, took place in Art Lauffer's fine oak-timbered pastureland and the ancient trees offered some little measure of respite from the heat of this traditionally hot holiday.

A conspicuous feature of this lovely community get together in celebration of the nation's birthday was a delicious home-cooked cafeteria dinner. A platform had been rigged up on a hayrack, and hereon had been placed a piano and a loud speaker. Mr. Frank B. Liszt was Master of Ceremonies, and Charles Sass conducted a "community sing" consisting of patriotic songs with Mrs. Iva Sproat accompanying at the piano. Ralph Tilsy led in a pledge of allegiance to the American flag, and 4H girl Cheryl Sass led in a pledge to the allegiance to the Christian flag. A piano solo of "patriot" medley was played by Alma Lauffer. There were games, contests and races, amidst the occasional burst of a firecracker that carried one back to days when the 4th was more noisy than anything else.

Speaker of the afternoon was Rev. H. E. Aseltine, pastor of Marley community church, who chose for his subject "The Look ing Glass." He said it was necessary to go into the history of the 4th of July, as we were all familiar with it.

Instead he would talk a little about America's "good neighbor" policy of which we have heard so much, and which, at least when he talks from, could stand a little improvement. He tried to show how others view us, in keeping with his topic. Although he is a Canadian, Rev. Aseltine was born in the United States and moved into Canada, just over the border, when a child. When attempting to return to this country at times, he encountered unpleasant difficulties at the eastern U. S. port of entry. It was necessary for him and his party to show all in their possession to the point of the farical. Mr. Aseltine is also a citizen of this country, and, of course, readily complied.

In his address he recalled that at one time his sister, when a young girl, wanted to visit her aunt for a few weeks in Vermont. The distance from Canada to Vermont at that point was 100 miles, and he had been carrying her papers in the United States. The customs officers would not admit her, but instead, put her in jail and she was locked up for a while with no explanation given. She never got a chance to visit her aunt.

Then, referring to the "looking glass" again from a spiritual standpoint, the speaker stressed that we should always be at pains to make sure that our actions, words and deeds are acceptable to our Creator, and so live that we are in harmony with His plan.

Mrs. Margaret Semmler, local newspaper editor, who attended the celebration was asked to speak and complied with a few words of welcome. She mentioned that this was the 177th birthday of our republic, complimented those who had arranged this fine celebration, and touched on the fact that this same celebration having been carried on for 177 years, is its own testimonial of the community. Throughout the entire land on this day, she said, there were little groups meeting here and there, each helping to establish and make stronger the bonds of brotherhood and unity and even though these groups might be small, we need no better answer to the hard methods of the Iron Curtain than these simple demonstrations of our patriotism and our freedom to thus assemble peaceably everywhere in this nation. She admonished her listeners not to listen to flowery theoretical ideas which would tend to replace our present freedom and institutions with something else we know not of.

The program closed with the singing of the national anthem.

Mrs. Louis Badten
Recovering From
Auto Accident

Mrs. Louis Badten of Maple road is a most happy woman these days for she has been privileged to return to her home and family after being hospitalized since last December.

Mr. and Mrs. Badten and daughter Patsy and son Ronald moved from Hammond, Ind. to the home formerly occupied by the Newton family early last fall. An auto accident last December 6 caused Mrs. Badten, 31, to have received injuries of broken bones, which kept her in Silver Cross hospital until May 23, when she was able to be moved to her mother's home in Hammond. The children stayed with their grandmother since the accident and two weeks ago the complete family arrived at their own home where Mrs. Badten is slowly improving.

With the help of her children, aged 8 and 9, and her husband, who is having a two weeks vacation from his work in a machine shop in Chicago, the family is able to manage enough to maintain their home. Those knowing the Badten family are rejoicing with them on their family reunion.

Falls Off Train: Breaks His Glasses

Friday evening at 6:15 when train No. 277 pulled into Mokena from Chicago, Charles Lind, 62, who lives in Mokena with his parents, was apparently oblivious to the steps, and walking straight off the train, falling to the ground in a heap. The train had come to a dead stop at the time this happened, and the incident had been witnessed by the conductor.

The sheriff was called, an ambulance summoned and Mr. Lind was hurried to the hospital. At about 9 pm, Whitney Carter, the local Rock Island agent, received a telephone call from the hospital to come and get Mr. Lind. The only damage Mr. Lind suffered from the fall from the train was a pair of broken glasses.

Windstorm Blows Down Wire, Tree

Last Sunday evening about 9 o'clock a severe electrical rainstorm accompanied by high winds came through Mokena and blew down a Public Service live wire, in front of the Swanberg Implement Co. It also blew down a tree at the corner of Wolf road and McGovney street and stripped many trees of their smaller branches. Nobody was injured.

The wind played havoc with the tent housing the hickory furniture which was on display Sunday at the Lincolnwood Drive In in Lincolnwood Hills, two miles east of New Lenox. Then tent was ripped, shredded, and damaged beyond repair, then tossed by the wind clear of the furniture it had protected.

Fortunately, a great deal of this hickory furniture had been sold last Sunday, when the open air mart opened, and there was little furniture left under the tent, but what was left was not damaged.

The Mokena village board met in regular session Tuesday night. Carried over from a special meeting held June 23 to consider street improvements was a resolution passed to proceed with the work of repairing the streets and alleys in the village. $4,160 derived from the Illinois motor fuel tax will be used for this purpose. The board aims to make these repairs as nearly of permanent nature as possible so they will not have to be made every year.

Howard Beagley was present at the meeting and complained of the catch basin at his property, on the corner of Front and Division streets which is always full of water. Otto Kampe, of Tinley Park, who was also present at the meeting, was instructed to clear the drain so the catch basin will function properly.

The board made plans to enforce the dog ordinance, and instructed Police Chief Whitney Carter to make provisions for a pound in which to keep stray dogs. A complaint was also made about cats running at large and being a nuisance.

The board authorized Chief Carter to obtain a revolving light for his police car.

The fire siren which had been "shorted" recently, and was therefore out of service, has been repaired.

Kankakee Man a Graduate From Kenny Foundation

Kenneth Lyle Fox, registered nurse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Farrell R. Fox, 431 South Fraser, Kankakee, Ill., was awarded a certificate as a graduate Kenny Therapist in the treatment of infantile paralysis at Minneapolis, Minn., June 9.
He was among 11 registered nurses and physical therapists from eight states and two foreign countries to be graduated. Others were from Kentucky, Iowa, Michigan, South Dakota, Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York, South Africa and Egypt.
Fox and others graduated received their training under school auspices provided by the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation. Majority of the training was taken at Elizabeth Kenny Institute, Minneapolis, Minn., the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation's International Kenny Therapist Training Center. Kenny Institute also is the Kenny Foundation's polio treatment center for Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, and South Dakota.
The training of Kenny Therapists consists of an intensive, two year, post graduate course for registered nurses and physical therapists in the Kenny concept and treatment of poliomyelitis. Specialized training is supplemented by courses in anatomy and physiology offered by the University of Minnesota medical school, Minneapolis. Students serve through two periods of polio incidence during their training course which includes classroom instruction and work with polio patients. Before receiving a certificate, the trainee is given opportunity to demonstrate ability to manage polio cases from admission to final discharge.
Upon graduation, Kenny Therapists are assigned to one of the Kenny facilities in this country.

U. of I. Open House Tours

A series of three Open House Tours has been arranged by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture to acquaint Illinois farm families with the college and especially with the work being done by its experiment station.
Farm adviser, Carl F. Mees, announces that July 24, and September 22, are the dates selected for the tours. Families are welcome to attend on as many of these dates as they wish. They were purposely spread over the summer to show visitors different stages in the development of the crops and live stock.
Included in each tour will be visits to the Morrow Plots, oldest soil experiment field in the United States; animal sciences laboratory, where feeding experiments are conducted under scientifically controlled conditions; agricultural engineering laboratory, where automatic feed grinding and crop-drying equipment will be on display; horticulture greenhouses and field, where vegetable trial experiments are conducted; and the new College of Veterinary Medicine building.
Visitors will also inspect the field crops and soil experiments in progress at the agronomy south farm and visit the swine, beef, dairy and poultry farms.
The program will start at 9 a. m. CST on each of the two days and will end at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Mees says everyone is on his own for lunch. Families may want to pack a picnic basket and have lunch at one of the many scenic places on the University campus.
As a train pulled up at a wayside station in England a guard noticed smoke coming out of a compartment labeled "No Smoking." Opening the door he eyed the six guilty-looking passengers inside.
"Gentlemen," he said, "there are two company rules on this line which are repeatedly broken. The first is that smoking is forbidden in carriages not set aside for that purpose, and the second is that the company's servant may not accept bribes. You have already broken one of these rules."

Christian's Code
Lesson for July 12, 1953

THE Christian is not "under law," as Paul says, but "under grace." This does not mean that a Christian can live as he pleases, any old way good or bad. There is a code of behavior for Christians. Only the Christian's code is not like a city's laws or the rules of a game. The nearest thing we have to a code is certain great principles of behavior, the foundation-lines for our house of life. One of the most familiar chapters of the whole Bible is Romans 12, where Paul sets down in pretty plain words what kind of behavior may be expected of a Christian. The passage is so familiar, in fact, that it can too easily be read with the eyes only and not with the mind. So this column will depart from its usual method, and simply present, for the most part, some of the important sentences or phrases from this classic chapter, first in the old King James translation and then in various other more recent ones in English. They will be numbered as follows:
1. King James translation (1611 A. D.)
2. Revised Standard Version (1946)
3. Moffatt's translation (1922)
4. American Translation (1923)
5. Weymouth's (1930)
6. Phillips's (1947) ("Letters to Young Churches")
(Where a number does not appear, it is because that version is not notably different from some of the others.) These translations will perhaps suggest to the thoughtful reader that there is more in Scripture than any one translation can fully bring out.
1. Present your bodies a living sacrifice . . . your reasonable service. 2.—your spiritual worship. 4.—your rational worship. 6.—an act of intelligent worship. (verse 1)
1. Be not conformed to this world. 4. You must not adopt the customs of this world. 6. Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mould. (verse 2)
1. Let love be without dissimulation. 2. Let love be genuine. 3. Let your love be a real thing. 5. Let your love be sincere. 6. Let us have no imitation Christian love. (verse 9)
1. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. 2. Hate what is evil; hold fast to what is good. 3.—with a loathing for evil and a bent for what is good. 4. You must hate what is wrong, and hold to what is right. 5. Regard evil with horror; cling to the right. 6. Let us have a genuine break with evil and a real devotion to good. (verse 9)
1. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another. 2. Love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor. 3. Put affection into your love for the brotherhood . . . 5. Let your love of the brethren be true mutual affection. 6. Let us have real warm affection for one another as between brothers, and a willingness to let the other man have the credit. (verse 10)
1. Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit. 2. Never flag in zeal, be aglow with the Spirit. 3. Never let your zeal flag; maintain the spiritual glow . . . 4. Not wanting in devotion, but on fire with the Spirit. 6. Let us not allow slackness to spoil our work and let us keep the fires of the spirit burning. (verse 11)
1. Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer. 2.—be constant in prayer. 3. Let your hope be a joy to you; be steadfast in trouble, attend to prayer. 4. Be happy in your hope . . . 5.—full of joyful hope, patient under affliction, persistent in prayer. 6. Base your happiness on your hope in Christ. When trials come endure them patiently: steadfastly maintain the habit of prayer. (verse 12)
1. Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath. 2. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God. 4. Do not take your revenge, dear friends, but leave room for God's anger. 6. Never take vengeance into your own hands, my dear friends; stand back and let God punish if he will. (verse 19)
You can see that the "code of the Christian" simply is the way Jesus lived!

The census taker was inquiring of the mountaineer how many children he had. "Four," was the answer, "an" by gosh, that's all I'm goin' to have."
"How come?" the census taker inquired.
"Why," said the man, "I just read in this here almanac that every fifth child born in the world is a Chinaman!"

Dairy Feeding Costs Cut, Profits Boosted With High Quality, Fertilized Pasture

Fertilized pasture adds quick pounds to beef cattle.
DAIRYMEN can cut their feeding costs to the bone by making full use of well-fertilized, high quality pasture and hay, according to the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.
Dairy cattle will produce between 70 and 80 per cent of their total milk capacity on pasture and hay. Beef cattle will gain well on a ration that is 75 to 85 per cent roughage. Sheep will do well on 80 to 90 per cent roughage. And the total digestible nutrients from high producing pasture are some of the cheapest that can be produced. The cost of 100 pounds of total digestible nutrients from pasture runs about 75 cents.
To get cost cutting high yields and top quality hay and pasture, three main steps are needed: 1.—A soil well stocked with plant nutrients; 2.—The use of well adapted mixtures of legumes and grasses; and 3.—Good grazing management. Pastures can be built up and maintained at high producing levels when a balanced fertilizer is regularly added. Legume stands will produce at top levels only when they are well supplied with phosphate and potash.

Party Pretty Angel Cake

For the many summer occasions when you'll want to serve a cool, light, picture-pretty dessert with an iced beverage, angel food cake is the perfect starting point. And such desserts are easy, too, when you start with an un-iced, packaged angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. These cakes, are made from cook book recipes, like your own, and are light and tender, and delicately flavored.

A pretty way to use an un-iced angel cake is to split the cake horizontally into three layers, and put the layers back together again with a chocolate filling. The cake is iced just before serving with flavored whipped cream. Your guests will love it.

Angel Cake Supreme

1 1/4 cups milk
1/4 cup flour
1/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa

Heat about 3/4 cup of the milk and stir remaining milk gradually into the flour, sugar and cocoa which have been sifted together. Add moistened flour mixture to hot milk and cook five minutes over direct heat, stirring constantly. Cool to room temperature. Cream fat until soft. Blend in confectioners' sugar. Stir into the cooled cocoa mixture. Cut cake into three horizontal slices. Spread filling between layers. Chill 10 to 12 hours. Frost with flavored whipped cream. Serves eight.

Help Get Dangerous Drivers Off Road, Urges Chas. Shuman

In praising the new driver license law which took effect July 1, Charles B. Shuman, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, has asked citizens of Illinois to cooperate in making the law a success.

"Now that licenses can be revoked by the Secretary of State for habitual negligence or recklessness, it should be the duty of every citizen to cooperate in reporting such offenses and help get the dangerous drivers off the road," Shuman said.

The law, which is similar to one proposed by the IAA, was praised by Shuman as "a big step in making our highways safe. But to be most effective, the law must be supported by the cooperation of everyone—driver and non-driver."

The original recommendations of the IAA, state wide Farm Bureau organization with 196,000 farmer members, for a law of this nature were the result of traffic studies and surveys of licensing laws in other states. The IAA supported the bill in both houses of the legislature. After July 1 the Secretary of State will maintain records of accidents and traffic violations for every driver in the state. Every local and state court must submit complete reports of violations to the Secretary of State, who is required to revoke licenses for conviction of certain offenses.

The Secretary also has discretionary power to revoke or suspend licenses for certain other violations.

New $625,000 High School at Crete to be Completed in 1954

We present above a picture of the proposed new high school building for Crete, district 201U which is scheduled to be completed for occupancy by September 1954.

It is a two story building which fronts on West exchange street in Crete, well set back to the south. There is to be a cafeteria in a one story structure backed up by a higher roofed gymnasium which in turn adjoins a football and athletic field. Shops are seemingly at the other end of the plan. Total cost for the new building will be $625,000.

It was in 1932 that the Crete elementary school district began operating a two year high school program. In 1937 a wing providing four classrooms and a study hall library was added to the Crete Elementary building, and the instructional program was expanded to include three years of high school training. It became a four year high school in 1940, with the formation of a Community High school district at Crete. This district was absorbed into district 201-U.

POWER FOR THE TENN. VALLEY

by Thurman Sensing
Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tenn.

The people in the area served by the Tennessee Valley Authority are finding themselves "between the devil and the deep blue sea." Their only source of electricity is the TVA, a socialistic experiment in government ownership and operation—and the people of this country voted in the national election last fall to put an end to the trend toward socialism.

But the Valley needs more electricity, both to meet the needs of its own growing industry and to attract new industry. If there can be no increase in the electricity available to the Valley, growth of industry in that area will be greatly impeded.

It is for this reason that many of those in the Valley who are professed opponents of socialism and government in business see no other course than to advocate continued federal appropriations to enable the TVA to build the great series of steam plants with which they propose to furnish the additional electricity needed. Such a position, however, is entirely fallacious. Those who reason thus do not seem to realize that what they are proposing is a perpetuation of socialism, that under such reasoning there would never be an end to socialistic control of electric power in the Tennessee Valley.

And it should not be forgotten, either, that production of electricity was only supposed to be incidental to the operations of the TVA in the first place and it was never intended that the TVA should build steam plants for the production of electricity and assume a complete monopoly over the power supply in the area.

However, we all know that electric power is an absolutely essential factor in the development of our present day economy, and we should all be in agreement that the Tennessee Valley should not be limited in its supply. But as the people of the Valley find themselves in their present predicament, they should clearly realize this one fact: that no such situation holds true in areas outside the Valley where electric power is furnished by private utilities. As the demand grows in those areas, the utilities are ready to meet it, as private enterprise has always done—and there is no question of expanding socialism in their doing so.

The logical solution—and the only solution—for the predicament in the Valley should therefore be quite clear to everyone—a return of the electric power business to private enterprise.

It is true that this would take time and that additional power will be needed while this is being arranged. The answer here is that private power companies all around the perimeter of the TVA stand ready to furnish this power and it could very easily be arranged with them to furnish it while the details are being worked out.

Wilco All Star Game at Manhattan

The Wilco All-Star game will be played in the beautiful Manhattan ball park, under the lights, Saturday night, July 11.

The program starts at 7 pm. with a game played by the boys ten years old and younger. League rules require five such boys on each Little League team. The all-star players, whose game will start at 8:45 pm. will be mostly boys in the twelve year age bracket, who are playing their last year of little league ball. Siemsen, Miller, Eggert and Hug will represent Tinley Park on the All-Star team and Tom Propp, Jack Boston and Joe Farrell are ten year olds who will play on the other team.

Tinley Wins 1-0 Tinley Park "B's" Rout Thornton 7-2

Tinley came through with its second win in Harvey YMCA league competition Monday, July 6. This gives the "B" team a two won and one lost record. Ron Stege pitched four innings of hitless ball while allowing only one run. That run scored on a double steal attempt with one runner thrown out at second.

In the fifth inning, Thornton led off with two hits in a row. Here, manager Dan Anfield removed Stege as a measure of safety, and called on Jack Tomlinson to take the mound. He ended the inning without a run scoring. However, in the next inning Emrick of Thornton ended Tomlinson's streak of twelve scoreless innings with a pop up double which scored a run.

Tinley scored four runs in the fourth inning and led all the way.

Tomlinson Throws No-Hit Game;

Friday evening the Tinley Park "B" team journeyed to Harvey minus four regular players. Tinley managed to nose out a one to nothing victory over the H. Smith Olds team of Harvey.

Jack Tomlinson making his first league start, hurled a brilliant no-hit, no-run game, for six innings, when the game was called because of darkness. This was barely good enough to beat his mound opponent Rus McKibben, who pitched a two-hitter. Tomlinson walked three while striking out twelve.

In the third inning Ron Stege led off with a single, and moved to third on two walks and a strike out, where Beccue's crosstake hit scored him with the only run of the ball game.

Comments From The Bench

by Ruth & Ruth
There's bad news this week. Our Frankfort Girls Softball game with the Homer team Wednesday night ended on a sour note. Frankfort was on the short end of a 17 to 13 score in an extra inning ball game.

This sport got under way with Arleen Flesher doing the pitching and Carole Peterson receiving for Frankfort. Homer had to use four girls on the mound thru out the game. Toni Matesi started, then changed positions with Gloria Reiter. Joan Phillips tried her hand at it for an inning or two. And then "Lefty" Gloria Reiter came back to the rubber in the last of the eighth and was effective in retiring the side.

The game progressed well with both teams playing good ball, but it seemed that every other inning, (2nd, 4th, 6th and 8th) there was plenty of "rhubarb" at the plate. Why, you may ask, just every other inning? Simply because the umpires changed positions after each inning and the facts prove that one just didn't "fill the bill." It might be well to add that this is not just your reporters or players belief, but also the opinion of the fans who were watching and commenting on the game.

Although fumbles occurred now and then, the sides were well balanced so far as hits, fielding, errors and throwing were concerned. Some events mentioned would be the several double plays: Carole Peterson's perfect peg to second catching the runner; attempting to steal; Gloria Reiter's eighth inning triple; as well as Jean Lentz's many stretches to grab wide throws at first base.

At the end of the seventh, the score was deadlocked at thirteen up, and it was decided to play one more inning. In the eighth inning, Arleen was pouring in many a strike, but evidently the umpire didn't know the plate had corners, and the result was a couple of walks which figured in the four runs that scored. With one away, Manager Reuben Borms called over LaVerle Mackey and Arleen took up the second base job. LaVerle also walked a batter, but ended the inning decisively with a double play, snatching a line drive and throwing to first, catching the runner off base.

In Frankfort's half of the eighth, the lead off batter started out with a single, and stole second, only to be left stranded. The next three batters succumbed to strike outs and infield fly balls.

Thus it was, and although we are trying to take our defeat gracefully, it was bitter, and will make us more determined to work hard for the sweet victories.

TINLEY SMALL FRY REGAIN LEAGUE LEAD

Tinley hammered their way into the League lead by defeating Beecher twice. On Friday, June 3, Beecher came to Tinley Park and lost 6 to 1. Siem sen doubled to open the first inning, but died on base when Hug, Miller and Eggert went down in order. Tinley chalked up three runs in the third inning on singles by Propp and Miller, a walk to Siemsen and a triple by Eggert. Tinley scored three more runs in the fifth inning, Propp walked, Hug singled, Eggert was safe on an error, and Meyer tripled. Ham-eister's double scored Claus, who had walked in Beecher's half of the fifth inning for their lone tally. Tinley's bat girl, Judy Gray, who has been doing such a fine job, was presented a uniform made to match those of the boys.

Plant Food Produces Three-to-One Return in Higher Crop Value

DR. GARTH VOLK, chairman of Ohio State University's agronomy department, reports that every dollar a farmer invests in fertilizer returns him $3 in increased crop value from higher yields.

"That's a good trade," he said. "It gives you a $2 profit for every dollar you spend. I'd like to deal with a bank on that basis."

Volk reports that last year Ohio farmers bought about $50 million worth of fertilizer. He estimates that this outlay returned $150 million to the state's farmers.

"Now you subtract $50 million from that total," he said, "and it gives Ohio farmers a $100 million net profit just for the simple operation of applying fertilizer to their land."

Volk summed up the value of plant food when he said: "A farmer cannot afford not to use fertilizer to obtain high crop yields these days."

BABSON SAYS—

Copyright—1953—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

Babson Park, Mass., July 9.—Readers have already seen in the newspapers that the Federal Reserve Board has reduced the reserve requirements, which banks must carry. This, directly or indirectly, should help every reader of this column. I wish to explain what it means.

For the past few years every member bank has been required to keep on hand a reserve of various percentages, up to 24%.

In other words, when you deposited $100 the bank heretofore has been able to loan only about $80 of this money. This amount varies with different banks and I merely use this figure as a variable illustration. The large city banks have one percentage for reserves; those of the smaller cities have another percentage, but every member of the Federal Reserve System has a required percentage.

During the Eisenhower Administration, when so much less Government money has been freely passed out by Government Bureaucrats, there has been a tightening up all along the line. Farmers have found it more difficult to borrow on crops; builders have found it harder to get mortgages; and every loan by local banks has been scrutinized more carefully. This is all a part of an honest attempt by the new Administration to prevent inflation. In most cases, it has not been due to any change of laws, but to a more careful handling of the Government funds.

The above more businesslike program has caused Congressmen to get thousands of letters from readers complaining that applications for loans were being turned down. For fear that this, combined with the droughts from which some sections are suffering and the unsettled foreign situation, might bring about a depression, these Congressmen have been pestering the White House. Probably your Congressman was one of these. Ike in effect replies to them that he will not resort to former carelessness and will continue to handle the Government's money as if it were his own; but if they want to change the rules in a fair and honest manner he will abide by them.

As a result, the Federal Reserve Board, by changing the Reserve requirements, has made it possible for banks to loan more money. Congress has also changed the law enabling veterans to buy more expensive homes with a down payment which could be as low as 5%. Congress is in the process of also loosening up restrictions along other lines. As a result, any farmer, builder or businessman who now has an honest need for funds can—with reasonable security—get a loan. There, however, must be no politics connected with the loan.

Some months ago, I forecast in this column that interest rates would be higher. All the large city banks have since then raised their rate of interest. So have banks of many smaller cities. Whether your own local bank has raised its interest rate since President Eisenhower was inaugurated, I do not know. If, however, it has not already done so, it should "count ten" before it does so now. One thing is certain, when you now attempt to borrow money from your local bank and are refused, the bank can no longer blame it onto the new Administration. I hear this is a popular excuse for turning down loans or raising interest rates by banks in Democratic communities!

When the new Administration came into power you were obliged to put up a margin of 10% when you bought listed stocks, in case you did not pay in full. Soon this percentage was reduced to 50%, which should have made stocks go up in price but they did not rise. This is a good illustration of how prices are really controlled by fundamental conditions and not by legislation. The old Law of Action and Reaction still continues. "You can lead the horse to water, but you can't make him drink." As to the general business outlook, I am still cautious; but if your local bank doesn't now loan money more freely to good citizens it cannot blame the Federal Reserve or Bureaucrats. The reason will be that businessmen have decided to depend more on honest work, intensive selling and more advertising than on borrowing money.

Establish Bounds Of Gaden Homes

(CNS) An order establishing the boundaries of the Garden Homes Sanitary district, was signed recently in Cook county court by Judge Edmund K. Jarecki.

The boundaries of the sanitary district are 115th street on the north, 119th street on the south, and its limits extend as far west as Crawford avenue and as far east as Central Park ave. The eastern and western boundaries of the district are irregular. State statute provides that Judge Jarecki must set a date for a special referendum on the actual formation of the district within 60 days from June 16, the day a public hearing was held. The boundaries of the district were set at the public hearing by Judge Jarecki and Circuit court judges Cornelius J. Harrington and William J. Tuohy.

If a majority of the voters in the area approve the issue, the Garden Homes Sanitary district will be formed. The entire area is unincorporated land in Worth township and is not a part of any village or city. The district is surrounded by Chicago on the north and east, Blue Island on the south and the village of Alsip on the west.

The petition was filed last month by Franklin W. Klein and Arthur Thorpe, attorneys, who represented 259 persons who signed a petition requesting that a sanitary district be formed.

College Students Offered Unique Vacation Work

College students looking for vacation opportunities are offered the unique experience of serving as volunteers in the medical social service departments of 12 of Metropolitan Chicago's leading hospitals.

Young men and women are needed as aides to the medical social workers. The assignments will range from clerical work on case records to visiting in wards with patients and caring for youngsters while workers interview.

Anyone interested in a challenging volunteer job of this kind can contact the Volunteer Bureau of the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago, Andover 3-0640. On the job training classes are scheduled for July 28.

Hospitals seeking college students for this important volunteer work are Children's Memorial Cook County hospital, Illinois Children's hospital school, LaRabida sanitarium, Mercy Free dispensary, Mount Sinai hospital, Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium, Presbyterian hospital, Provident hospital, St. Luke's hospital, University of Chicago clinics and Veterans Administration hospital.

Chicago Education Board to Train Mentally Retarded

(CNS) The Chicago board of education has approved the establishment of two training centers for a two year pilot study in training mentally handicapped children. The program will go into effect when school opens next September 8.

One center will be opened at the Wentworth school on the south side and another on the north side at a school yet to be determined. Each center will handle 40 children, with pupils attending half-day sessions. Each center will have two teachers.

The program follows permissive legislation passed this year by the state legislature. The state will pay two-thirds of the salaries of teachers used in the two year pilot study.

The program distinguishes between "educable mentally handicapped children", those who can be educated to a degree, and "trainable mentally handicapped" children, those who have potentialities for training in self care, social adjustment to groups by controlled behavior, communication and physical activity, and economic usefulness in the home and or community under supervision of a responsible adult.

Children for the experimental program will be between 7 and 12 years of age and between 30 and 50 intelligence quotient and having a mental age of from three to five years. In addition, the children will have to possess speech and other abilities sufficient to make wants known.

On one day each month, a teacher from each of the centers will conduct a two hour study class for parents of the handicapped pupils.

The program will seek to determine the extent to which this type of child can benefit from such training, the best methods and curriculum, and the cost of such a program.

Thy Will Be Done

When in life you meet with sorrow
And teardrops fall in vain,
Lift your eyes and pray to heaven
Asking strength to bear the pain
Do not ask the trial be over
Merely say: "Thy will be done."
And pray you hold no malice
In your heart toward anyone
Then God will surely bless you
And the future won't look dim,
If you'd offer up the pain
For times that you've hurt Him.
For our hearts would be unburdened,
And life's battle could be won
If we'd trust our souls to Jesus.
Saying: "May Thy will be done."

Pruning Helps Keep Evergreens In Good Shape

It's a good idea to start pruning your evergreens when they are small, especially the first year after they come from the nursery.

Then if you will prune them a little each year you can keep them in shape without having to cut off a branch or lots of foliage, says Farm Adviser, Carl F. Mees.

Too often evergreens are planted and given no attention from then on, Mr. Mees says. But they get to be unattractive trees and many times get too big and have to be cut down because they weren't pruned properly.

Best time to prune evergreens is either before new growth starts in spring or after it is nearly complete in fall. Evergreens do not grow very much during the summer and will not be able to cover the pruning scars if you prune them.

Always leave some of the new growth on trees and shrubs when you prune. Evergreens actually do lose their leaves or needles, although not all at once or every year. If you keep all new growth cut off, you'll soon have nothing but old, bare branches that have lost their old needles.

For more information about pruning evergreens, ask your county farm adviser for a copy of Circular 708, "Pruning Narrowleaf Evergreens." Or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana for a copy.

4H & FFA Youths To Have Day At Live Stock Show

Farm boys and girls will take over the International Amphitheatre on August 25 at the 14th annual Junior Market Hog Show and Marketing Day when a large showing of top quality market hogs is anticipated by 4H and FFA youths engaged in hog raising projects.

According to the sponsors, the purpose of this event is to encourage young farm people to become successful producers of market hogs by demonstrating the kind of hogs desired by consumers of pork and also the type which can be most efficiently produced. Quality factors that effect price will also be stressed.

All of the hogs entered for the show will be graded into three groups as follows: Blue—a distinct meat type hog, one that will have a high proportion of superior quality lean cuts; Red—a desirable type hog that shows a higher degree of finish than the market now demands; White—an over fat hog that will yield a relatively low proportion of the desired lean cuts.

Entry blanks and premium lists may be obtained by writing to the show headquarters, 840 Exchange ave., Union Stock Yards, Chicago 9. Final date for accepting entries is Monday, August 10.

WHEN looking for a job, a smart young man or woman will ask about opportunities for advancement.

In just one recent year there were 4,124 promotions in Illinois Bell—1,205 for men and 2,919 for women.

For every 100 men on the payroll, there were 9.5 promotions during the year. For every 100 women—10.9 promotions.

So you can see there's a mighty good chance for advancement for both men and women at Illinois Bell.

And that's not all. Wages are good from the start—with regular increases. There's a liberal pension plan, sickness and disability benefits and vacations with pay. Jobs are stimulating, useful, interesting. Conditions are pleasant, friendly. All these and other advantages are reasons why so many people consider Illinois Bell...

What will Social Security pay you at 65?

If you are covered under the Social Security Act, the most you will receive—regardless of your income now—is $80 per month at 65. Additional amounts may be received by your wife.

Social Security is, therefore, only the first step toward a comfortable old age retirement. I will be glad to figure for you the exact amount you will receive per month at 65 and show you how, under a State Farm savings and security program, you can add to that amount to bring your retirement income up to $150 or $200 a month at 65—or sooner, if you prefer! Call or come in any time.
